ACHIEVE DIGITAL BUSINESS AUTOMATION AND SEAMLESS WORKFLOW MANAGEMENT WITH AUTOMIC AUTOMATION

In today's fiercely competitive digital business environment, it's becoming harder to manage and maintain workflows across a growing ecosystem of diverse platforms, ERP systems, and business apps. With Automic Automation, Broadcom's service orchestration and automation platform, Melillo can help you achieve digital business automation across your entire IT landscape to accelerate your digital transformation and power your trajectory of growth.

Delivering seamless workflow management, digital business automation, and accelerated digital transformation in one platform, Automic Automation allows you to:

- Manage complex workloads: Enjoy simplified workload management in one unified platform that provides a single point of automation across mainframe, distributed, and cloud platforms.

- Simplify multi-cloud deployment: Effortlessly deliver business services to your business across multiple cloud environments.

- Accelerate Big Data and AI Integration: Create agile and efficient data pipelines with end-to-end automation to power more informed decision-making, while seamlessly integrating AI technologies to unlock the full potential of your data and drive transformative outcomes.

- Minimize downtime and automate menial work: Empower SRE teams to work more efficiently, reduce the time taken to resolve issues, and eliminate repetitive tasks to enhance system reliability and performance.

- Transform SAP operations for greater performance and agility: Enhance SAP processing performance and boost agility through automation, accelerated data processing, and seamless integration with key SAP solutions.

- Enhance visibility and control over Oracle E-Business Suite: Enjoy a single point of control for managing business processes, including non-standard Oracle concurrent requests, to effectively monitor and oversee operations for improved efficiency and performance.

With Automic Automation from Broadcom, Melillo can help you unlock the full potential of your business through seamless automation, streamlined workflows, and accelerated transformation, so your organization can thrive in the digital era.
