Testimonials:

“

“At Thermo Fisher Scientific we had a huge process-debt of running on paper-based traditional methodology for computer systems validation work. AgiliProve immensely helped us transition from a traditional approach to a more standardized, automated, flexible, and paperless one. There was an older version of e-signature and records utility which had several deficiencies and Melillo consulting group fixed that problem with an easy-to-use interface that helped save almost 30% effort for our users across the globe who transitioned to AgiliProve from a paper-based approach. Really appreciate the support and proactive help.”

“QuidelOrtho has used ALM since 2006 and recently decided to add electronic signature capability to our system. AgiliProve was the natural choice since we've used Melillo Consulting for our ALM support since 2016. I've been impressed with the power included in the AgiliProve suite of tools (user management in particular is so much more efficient) and also with the flexibility of the rules engine as we have worked through conversion of a highly-complex, 18,000-line workflow. The conversion work has been done by Melillo's consultants and the experience has been excellent – they are engaged, look for and present ideas for efficiency, and deliver a configuration that meets my needs. The whole team - sales, support, consulting, and maintenance renewals - is top-notch, truly customer-focused, and I cannot recommend them highly enough.”
